Federal Communications Commission

To Whom It May Concern:

Reference: Docket 99-25

We here in our community have a LPFM community radio station. Its call letters are KP1E-LP. Its antenna is in Dallas, Oregon. This local station provides very valuable service to our community. It takes an active and important part in our civic affairs by broadcasting events, news and local government information. No other means is available to do this for us.

We have learned of the contents of the MITRE report. While we can't say we understand all the technicalities, we do know that our station is being severely interfered with by another station. This station is in Portland, Oregon. It is about 60 miles away. It operates on the same frequency as our station. Because of this, its signal covers up our local station making it unintelligible. The Portland station does not serve our community. If the recommendations in the MITRE report are put in place and Congress permits the FCC to remove the "third adjacent channel rule", it is our understanding that our local station could move to a clear frequency where we could hear it as we are supposed to be able to do.

We support the conclusions and recommendations contained in the MITRE report. Therefore, we ask the Commission to recommend to Congress that it remove the third adjacent channel rule.

Thank you for your consideration.

Yours truly,

Fred E. Morgan and Ramona J. Morgan
